

The Leading Supplier of Commercial Microwave products for Security, Energy Management, Transportation and other applications.

Certified to BS EN ISO9001:2015
Certificate FM56058 (can be authenticated online here)

Certified scope “The design, control of manufacture and sale of microwave modules and printed circuit board assemblies”

Who are we?

Formed in 1996 from the Motion Detector Unit business of GEC-Marconi, Microwave Solutions Ltd. has grown to be the largest independent global supplier of microwave Doppler microwave sensors for a wide variety of applications.

What do we do?

Based in the United Kingdom, we sell our products throughout the world to key players in the electronic security, energy management, traffic control and vehicle reversing aid industries.

We design and certify our products to meet a wide range of technical standards and legislative requirements from around the world.

We participate in the development of European technical standards and regulations that impact our customers and markets.

How do we do it?

Through training, development, experience and listening to our customers we seek to provide timely, cost effective and innovative solutions to their microwave sensing needs.

Quality Policy

Strive for excellence and continual improvement by identifying & addressing risks and opportunities throughout our business, products & quality system.

Analyse & monitor our customers' and other interested parties' requirements & strive to exceed their expectations.

Train, develop & involve employees to enhance their awareness of quality & customer service and enable their full participation & contribution to achieve the company's objectives.

Comply with applicable legislative & regulatory obligations for our products and the requirements of BS EN ISO 9001.

Focus on technology innovation through our product design & development and strive to lead in bringing new technologies to the market.

Manage design, development & change implementation processes in order to continue to satisfy our customers' expectations at all times.

Microwave Solutions Ltd.

Secure House
Braithwell Way
Hellaby, Rotherham,
S. Yorks, S66 8QY
England

☎ +44 (0)870 122 3346

☎ +44 (0)844 774 7716

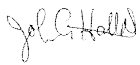

www.microwave-solutions.com
sales@microwave-solutions.com

Mission Statement

- To grow our business and maintain our position as a major global microwave component supplier.
- To invest in people and equipment and support our customers with the best possible solutions to their microwave sensing needs.
- To work with staff, customers and suppliers to respond positively to the technical and commercial risks we are all subject to.
- To update our current products, innovate and introduce new products, offer additional solutions to our customers' requirements and exploit legislative and technical advances in our field of expertise.
- To be a technology leader where that technology adds value to what we do and provides real benefits to our customers and their customers.
- Get it right first time, every time.

28/06/2018

X

John G. Hallatt
Managing Director
Signed by: john.hallatt

How we manage our business

This chart describes in broad terms the processes that Microwave Solutions adheres to and explains how we manage our business.

We maintain a series of integrated processes that begin with understanding the markets in which we operate and by managing the associated risks.

Documented procedures as required by the Quality Management System are established, implemented and regularly reviewed.

We generate business by working with our customers to identify their individual needs and translating these into engineered solutions.

We continuously monitor our performance and challenge our existing processes to identify improvements and make changes that enhance our products, processes and performance.

People, equipment and financial resources are managed to provide the level of support needed for our operational requirements.